Change in Amount of Events
- Notice the large difference in the number of events displayed

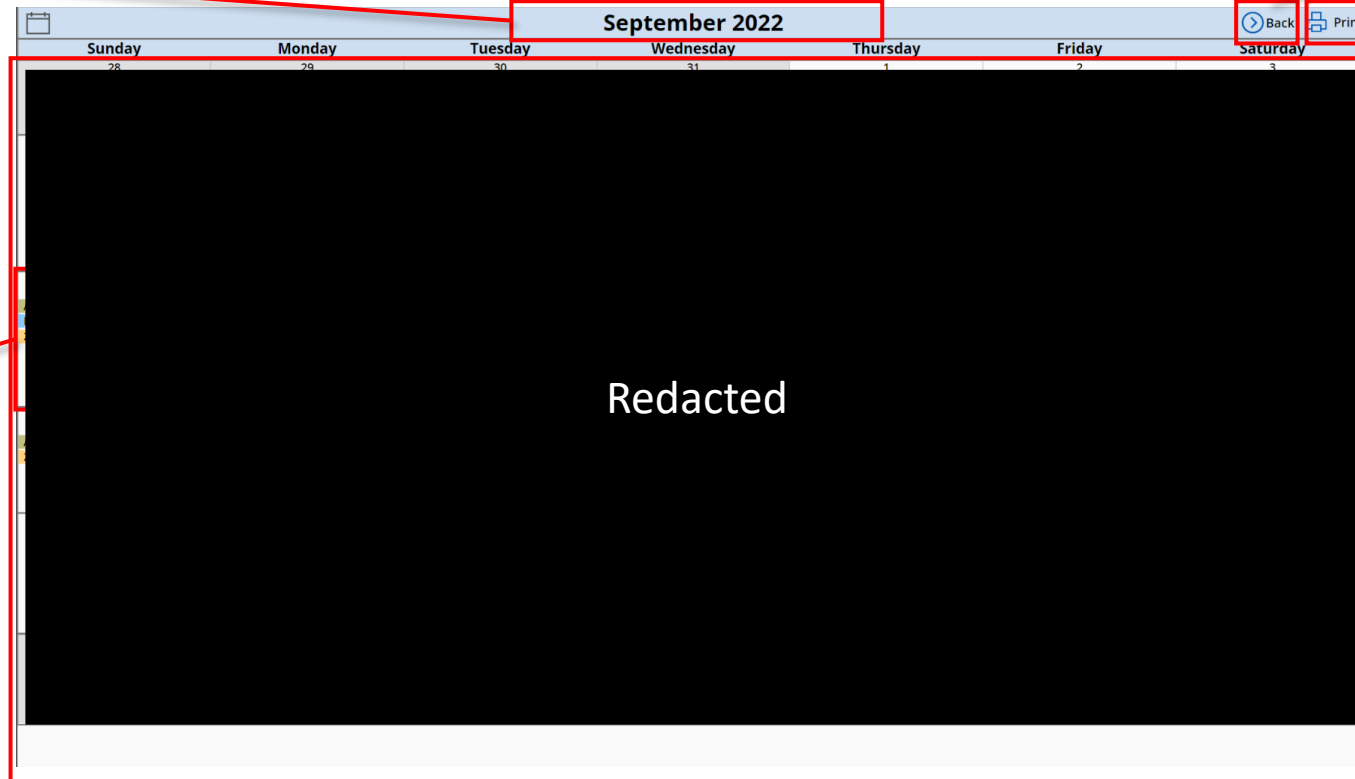

Printable Calendar Screen

Selected Month

- Printable Calendar opens for the month being viewed in the Main Calendar

Events List

- Shown in a more coherent flow format
- This display requires heavy calculation, so it is not how the Main Calendar displays

Back Button

- Takes the user back to the Main Calendar Screen

Print Button

- Opens the browser's print dialog

Limited Screen Space

- This screen is limited on available space for events
- Week heights are adjusted on the fly depending on how many event rows are occupied
- If there is overflow, a large warning will cover the calendar to notify the user (see Printable Calendar Overflow Warning)

Overflowed Printable Calendar Example

Too Many Events

- The display has overflowed because there are too many events with the current filter selection
- There are events offscreen that are not visible

Printable Calendar Overflow Warning

Large Warning/Acknowledgement

- Warning overlay displays when too many calendar events exist/are overflowing offscreen
- The Acknowledge button clears the warning, but does not change the calendar or take the user back to the Main Calendar Screen
